

Fierce Battle Raging for Tampico Oil Fields; U. S. Warships On Way To Mexican Ports

REBELS AND FEDERALISTS IN BLOODY FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—Revolutionary forces under General Alvaro Obregón, and Mexican federal troops under General Murguía are battling for possession of the Tampico oil fields, according to dispatches received today by General Salvador Alvarado, representative of the state of Sonora, now in Washington.

It was said that all available troops were being rushed from the neighboring states of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas to aid Murguía, who is reported to be in a dangerous position.

Official reports of the activities of Obregón's forces previously had been received here.

Other articles to General Alvarado said that a column from the brigade of General Bentez, formerly federal commander in Michoacán, who now is serving under General Obregón, had entered the state of Colima and was attacking the Carranza garrison at the state capital.

Despatches to the American government today said that according to information published in the Mexico City newspapers, 13 senators and 52 deputies of the Mexican congress had been dropped from the pay roll because of their sympathies with general Obregón.

Usual military activity centering at Monterrey was also officially reported today and it was said that the lines from Monterrey to Torreon and to Matamoros were interrupted yesterday.

From Chihuahua, some reports that a large number of officers and men of the 1st battalion of the Mexican army stationed at La Cruz had rebelled on April 21 and joined the anti Carranza movement.

Charge Hungarians Plot Massacre Of Jews

BUDAPEST, April 21.—Charges that the Hungarian government is conniving in a plot for "wholesale massacres of Jews," and that Jews are tortured and thrown into jail without trial are made in a communique sent to the peace conference in Paris by the committee of Jewish delegations, with headquarters in this city.

Jewish children are refused admittance to schools, it is averred, and Jewish trade is completely paralyzed. During the past few weeks, 800 Jews are said to have disappeared in Budapest.

SAN REMO, April 21 (By The Associated Press).—A complete agreement with respect to the attitude of the British government toward Germany in connection with the carrying out of the peace treaty has been reached by Premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand, it was stated here today.

"An agreement was reached during a conference lasting three and a half hours between the two premiers. The French premier left the conference room palpably delighted with the outcome. Premier Lloyd George said: "Everything is most satisfactory. A full agreement was reached in substance."

The American members of the reparations commission and Sir John Balfour, the British member, arrived here today to give information to the supreme council respecting the possibilities of coal deliveries by Germany.

REFUSE TO GO BACK TO POSTS

CHICAGO, April 21.—The strike of insurgent employees in the Chicago district today had developed into a finish fight, with the strikers determined to stand firm until the demands are granted and the railroad managers continuing to ignore the men who walked out and bending their efforts toward complete restoration of freight service. Eighty-three per cent of the normal number of switching

Mobile Given Real Thrill As Man, Monkey - Like, Swings On Wires

MOBILE, Ala., April 21.—After having defied the police for hours, forced the cutting off of electric power and caused the disruption of street car service and traffic generally at one of the principal downtown business corners, the man who last night startled hundreds of pedestrians by walking and swinging monkey-like amid the overhead electric light and telephone wires at an early hour today still was perched on his lofty seat midway between two poles.

All efforts to entice him down had failed and any resort to forcible persuasion, was precluded by danger of injury both to the pseudo-acrobat and his would-be rescuers. The police expressed the belief that the man had become crazed either from drugs or hooded whiskey. They were inclined toward the latter after viewing the victim's antics. They believed after the effects were of the wire walker would voluntarily return to earth.

The "human monkey" proved to be Charles Sanders, a Lithuanian. He descended safely early today into the arms of waiting policemen, who had pleaded with him for 11 hours to forsake his perilous perch.

The officers said Sanders was crazed with narcotics of which he had partaken at intervals while in the air. He told the police that he believed the crowds which had gathered to watch him were bent on lynching him, and he consented to return to the ground only after he had been promised protection by patrolmen who had ascended to the tops of the nearby buildings so as to be able to talk to him.

Electric current was cut off in that section of the city, so the line man would not be electrocuted, while in the air the man performed many thrilling "stunts", including standing on his head on an electric sign stretched across the street.

Sanders was locked up today as soon as the police could hurry him through the crowds. The officers did not attempt to forcibly remove him from the wires, they said, because of a fear that he might jump.

Father Knickerbocker Dolls Up In Denim and Patches for Parade

NEW YORK, April 24.—Father Knickerbocker girded up his loins in denim and patches today to take his first serious punch at the high cost of good dressing.

The day of the big parade—the economy parade, launched half jestingly by an organization of dramatic writers and press agents known as the Cheese Club—found thousands of earnest citizens ready to line up and trudge over miles of cobblestones and asphalt in a warning protest against profiteering in the necessities of life.

Long before the hour set for the parade to move, steady streams of men, women and children were moving toward the starting point at Columbus circle, clad in any old thing—and the older the better—and taking up their positions for the march in columns of four.

Every class was represented. The well to do business man marched shoulder to shoulder with the "white collar boy" of statistics salary envelope. High School boys and girls, municipal employees, humble citizens of the lower east side, and a Chinese delegation from Moss street, had places in the line, not to mention scores of theatrical stars of both sexes and all magnitudes, sundry elephants, goats and other livestock, brass bands and vaudeville comedians, out to contribute a little "jazz" to the occasion.

The power behind the overalls and patches movement in New York was strikingly emphasized along the line of march by posters in clothing store windows inviting the public to come in and buy at prices from $5 to $20 lower than those that prevailed last week; posters that employed among other phrases the line "why wear overalls?"

More than a score of large stores have advertised price reductions in the newspapers and A. W. Riley, head of the department of justice "flying squad" which has been doing missionary work among dealers here, predicts that the number will increase rapidly.

The line of march took the parade down Eighth avenue from Columbus circle to west 23rd street, through west 23rd to Broadway and back up Broadway to Columbus circle. Although Fifth avenue was barred to the parade by city officials after a protest from merchants who declared the parade would interfere with business, the word was passed among the marchers to wander down the avenue singly or in small groups after the parade, carrying the protest into the district where high priced clothes are made and sold. A mass meeting also was to be held after the parade at which the foundation for a permanent organization of high price opponents was to be laid.

Cards were passed out to the marchers pleading them to inventory their sartorial possessions and plan their use so that only a minimum of new garments would have to be bought in 1920.

"England and France Will Be Dry In Ten Years" --Johnson

WESTERVILLE, O., April 24.—"Ten years hence both England and France will be dry like America," predicted William E. ("Pussfoot") Johnson, American Anti-Saloon League worker on his return home from England today.

"In England it's not a question of sentiment or morals, but one of self preservation," Johnson declared. "England's imports double their exports. Business men of the country realize this condition cannot continue. To compete with dry America they too must have prohibition. They realize that a dry country means increased efficiency and increased production."

"There has been a remarkable change in sentiment in the British Isles towards anti-saloon workers. A year ago the British press was almost hostile as were the manufacturers. Today the majority of newspapers are friendly towards prohibition. Like the manufacturers, the press recognizes the necessity for increased production."

"Trade unions under the guise of organizations known as defense leagues and the like are putting up a desperate fight and are spending great sums of money recklessly to stop the progress of prohibition. Their efforts are futile."

In referring to France, "Pussfoot"

JOHNSON SWEEPS MONTANA

BUTTE, Mont., April 21.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, had a wide margin over his opponents for the Republican presidential nomination in Montana's primary, held yesterday, according to widely scattered unofficial returns available to newspaper tabulating the vote early today.

Nearly 200 precincts of the total 1,500 gave Johnson 6238 votes; Major General Leonard Wood 1604; Herbert Hoover 1239; Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois 1139, and Senator Warren G. Harding fewer than 500.

In the absence of a Democratic candidate for president, votes were written in for William G. McAdoo, President Wilson, Eugene V. Debs, Herbert Hoover, Governor Edwards, William J. Bryan and others. Little attention was paid to the Democratic vote in the tabulations, however.

JAIL, RATHER THAN WORK, MEN REPLY

CLEVELAND, O., April 24.—Government officials here today faced the dilemma of either backing down from the ultimatum issued yesterday or arresting approximately 1500 strikers and thus continue the strike in jail.

Threat of arrest made by John Sawyer, of the department of justice, if the men did not return to work was met with defiance at meetings yesterday and last night. The men agreed unanimously to go to jail rather than return to work before their demands are met.

The ultimatum was placed before the men by J. J. O'Rourke, president of the Cleveland Yardmen's Association and later by each of the system chairmen.

District Attorney E. S. Wertz, who authorized the presentation of the ultimatum, would not say early today what the government's next move would be.

It was understood, however, if the men are arrested they will be released providing they return to their switches, because of the difficulty of the railroads in obtaining new men to fill the vacancies.

Officials of the department of justice in Washington asserted the ultimatum was entirely unauthorized, according to a dispatch received here.

ASK MAYORS TO INTERVENE

NEW YORK, April 24.—Hopes of striking railroad workers in the New York-Jersey City district to regain their jobs with the seniority ratings taken from them by the railroad managers centered today on a conference at Atlantic City of strike leaders with mayors of several New Jersey cities who will intercede for the men. The determination to seek the aid of the Jersey mayors was reached by the strikers yesterday after the Railroad Managers' Association of New York had twice turned down requests for rescinding of the ultimatum under which strikers who failed to report by last Sunday lost their seniority.

U. S. CRUISERS TO PROTECT AMERICANS IN COAST CITIES

WASHINGTON, April 21.—While American cruisers from the Pacific fleet were sailing toward rebel Mexico today there was lacking any indication of an altered attitude of the United States government. Officials of the state and war departments continued to watch developments in the new Mexican situation with apparent equanimity, and unofficially it was declared any move by the United States was impracticable unless made necessary by the menacing of American lives or interests.

The despatch of war craft to Mazatlan, Tepic, Tampico and Frontera was taken to mean nothing more than a guarantee so far as possible of American safety.

It was not believed the commanders of these vessels would be ordered to go further than to afford refuge to such Americans as chose to go aboard. At Mazatlan the number of Americans was reported to be fewer than eighteen and a smaller number at Tepic.

The number of states the Sonora representatives here claim have joined in the movement is seven with a steadily growing list of bands of federal troops scattered through the states yet controlled by Carranza. The most recent defection claimed is that of the federal commander at Linares, Nuevo Leon, on the railroad line between Monterrey and Tampico.

Say Protests Are Coming In Against Keeping School on "Old Time" Plan

The action of the school board in deciding that the schools should keep one time, while the city kept another is calling forth protests according to those interested in daylight saving.
The failure of the schools to change to the new time simply means that fathers who work in factories and stores will come home for their discuss at one time, and their children will come home for their dinner at another, thus throwing double work on the mother of the family. They say a member on the school board on being consulted by a daylight saving advocate said, it will result in great confusion, I think they should get together and all use the same time.
Another member said, he would be in favor of following the Superintendent of Schools advice in the matter. A third said it is a mistake had been made it could be easily changed. Prof.
Appel admitted it would cause confusion, especially about the dinner

time.

Dear Dolly—I have three short stories which I have written and I would like you to tell me where to send them to have them published. I also have some photographs and would like to know where to send them. The newspapers pay for stories to publish in the paper and who do you address them to, to have them published.

Go to a book store or news stand and get the names of magazines that print short stories similar to yours and mail them your manuscript. Be sure to send stamps for its return in case it is not accepted. Very few, if any newspapers buy stories. Paper is so scarce and space so limited that newspapers haven't enough room for their ads, and news much less stories. If you still think you can sell them to some newspaper, address manuscript to the editor or managing editor.

How To Have Red Lips!

The girl with red lips and pink cheeks may be thanked for both health and beauty. It may be impossible for some to attain owing to a lack of red blood corpuscles. When the blood is improved and enriched with these red corpuscles, the weight increases and a beautiful complexion appears on the cheeks. The lips assume a healthy red color. Many physicians and beauty doctors prescribe three-grain doses of iron pills to be taken daily to increase the red blood corpuscles after a course of treatment lasting several months. The nervous system and general health also improve rapidly. The best apothecary shops supply this tablet in sealed packages.

GOES TO CHINA AS WIFE OF MINISTER

Mrs. Charles R. Crane.

This is a recent photograph of the wife of the newly appointed minister to China. Mrs. Crane was formerly Cornelia W. Smith of Faten, N. J., and her marriage took place in 1917.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—When people leave their cars parked on the street there is a distinction concerning the red lights on the rear? I happened to be on the street waiting for a street car one evening this week and a city officer drove up in the street, left his car about half way from the curb and car truck with out any light on it any where and our car came so I don't know how long it stood there.

A READER. It isn't necessary to have any lights lit on a parked car. There is a difference between one that is parked or headed towards the curb and one left standing out in the street. The next time you see an officer or anyone else standing in the street without a head or tail light, have them "pinched" if its only on the elbow.

Dear Dolly What do you think of a woman who is trying to make a match between her sister and a boarder or roomer. The neighbors have lots of fun watching the performance, but they feel sorry for the girl.

JUSTICE-TO-INNOUENCE. Miss Dolly Wise—Do you think it wrong for a girl to kiss a boy friend good night or to kiss him at all. Why is Leonard Wood called the worst trepled man in America? What day of the week did April 1st 1920 come on.

1473. You mustn't kiss a boy unless you are engaged to him. It is a good way to spread disease and it also cheapens a girl's character. I don't think General Wood is misstrated. He appears to be a man who can hold his own and take care of himself wherever he goes, judging from the way he was received in Portsmouth. I think he is given a warm reception everywhere. April 1st, 1920 fell on Tuesday.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl 21 years of age and I have been going with a boy 22 for three years and we were engaged and he has broken the engagement and quit me. He seemed to love me very much and I did him until some others got to telling him things. Could you please tell how I could find if he loves me or not.

LIVING IN HOPES. A man who will go with a girl three years and then quit her without an explanation or a good reason is a cad and not to be trusted. While you may feel hurt for a while you should thank your lucky stars you found him out in time.

Dear Dolly—I have three short stories which I have written and I would like you to tell me where to send them to have them published. I also have some photographs and would like to know where to send them. The newspapers pay for stories to publish in the paper and who do you address them to, to have them published.

River Now Falling

(BULLETIN)
At two o'clock this afternoon the Ohio continued to fall and the gauge showed a stage of 48.5.

After reaching a crest late yesterday afternoon at a stage of 48.9 the Ohio river remained stationary for several hours and then started on the downward course last night and this morning at 7 o'clock registered 48.8.

Local River Observer Fred Winter said this morning that while the river was falling very slowly up to 7 o'clock the decline would become more rapid tonight.

The fall of the Ohio will be rather slow for several days, local rivermen asserted Saturday as the Ohio also reached a very high stage at Pittsburgh and Wheeling and this water is due to pass here Sunday night or Monday.

The river will have to fall three more feet for the Towpath leading from the West Side to be open for travel. It has been submerged several days. Many ferries are in operation and West Siders who are employed in the city or have important business missions to look after have not been kept away from Portsmouth because of the inundation of this road.

By Sunday morning many machines will be able to drive across it and some will attempt it tonight should the Ohio fall a foot during the day. The road is closed in all the way and there is no danger of driving off the road into deep water.

The Greenwood passed down today for Cincinnati.

The Chris Green is due up today for Tipton.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Warning against further delay in settling the wage demands of the two million railroad workers of the country, Timothy Shea, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, told the railroad labor board today that the men "were fed up on promises, and dead dog-tired of delays."

Mr. Shea presented the demands of the firemen and hostlers for a basic living wage of $18.70 a day, with differentials for skill, responsibility, experience and the increase in the cost of living since the demands were first presented last June.

He told the board that the lesson to be learned from the steel, coal and railroad strikes was that "men will not work when they cannot live decently on the wages they are paid."

When he had urged the striking railroad men in the eastern terminals to return to work, Shea said their almost universal justification for striking was that they and their families were starving at work and they "might just as well starve not working."

Says Mrs. Patriotic And Patient Mr. Shea said the railroad workers had been patient and they had been patriotic.

HITCHCOCK WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC LEADERSHIP

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, withdrew last night from the race for Democratic leader of the senate, thus virtually assuring the selection of Senator Underwood of Alabama, at the Democratic conference called for Tuesday night.

Senator Hitchcock's announcement was made in a letter to senate Democrats. He said his withdrawal from the fight would conclude the Democratic leadership plans, which would not permit him during the remainder of the year to undertake the work of minority leader, which devolved upon him with the retirement from the senate of the late Senator Martin of Virginia.

The withdrawal of the Nebraska senator breaks the deadlock which developed at the party conference January 15 when the first effort was made to select a successor to Senator Martin.

"I now desire to terminate this deadlock," wrote Senator Hitchcock, "and hereby withdraw my name from the contest. This will conduce to Democratic harmony and will accord with my individual plans which will not permit me, during the remainder of the year, to undertake such continuous service in the senate as I have had during the past twelve months."

"The year during which I have acted as the Democratic leader has been one of responsibility and difficulty but one of pleasure also, because of the consideration shown me by party colleagues, whether they agreed with me or not."

A Statement From Harding

COLUMBUS, O., April 24.—Senator Warren G. Harding today issued the following statement:

To the Republican Voters of Ohio:
My candidacy for Ohio's support in the Republican presidential primary was not of my choosing. It came in response to a call from Ohio Republicans who have honored me generously already, and I responded to what seemed to me to be a call to service. The fact that invitation and encouragement came from beyond our own borders has little to do with the situation in Ohio. The issue in Ohio is whether our state shall continue to send delegates to national conventions bearing the banner of confident Ohio Republicanism. The first importance attaches to what we shall do among ourselves in Ohio, whether we may still aspire in our own state to continue eminent leadership to Republican success in the Nation.

The delegates at the national convention will select the nominee, but the voters in Ohio decide whether they choose to offer a candidate.

In spite of misrepresentation, in spite of misquotation, in spite of excessive organization, mainly sponsored outside our state, in spite of activities in the name of Republicanism which are more calculated to aid the opposite party than promote Republican success at the polls, I have sought to further party success at home and I confidently believe our best service to party—which means service to country—lies in making for harmony and success in our own state. If I have served you faithfully and well in the Senate, I invite your vote of confidence next Tuesday. There need be no doubt about the delegates who are running in my name doing their utmost and best in the national convention to write a covenant of Republican faith, and choose a nominee who best typifies it and thus appeal to the confidence of the Nation.

Very truly yours,

WARREN G. HARDING.

Baptists Going Over The Top

County Baptists expect to be among the first in the United States to forward daily reports of the progress of their campaign April 25 to May 2, as the result of a system perfected by Thomas D. Smith, County Campaign Director. The eagerness to report the rally returns to headquarters will be exceeded only by the desire on the part of Baptist workers to "Go over the Top" with the quota assigned this county. The money to be subscribed during the eight day campaign will go toward the $100,000 fund, which the General Board of Promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention expects to expend in its New World Movement program of education, Americanization and spiritualization. "The organization in our county is keyed up to high tension," says Director Thomas D. Smith "and we expect that Baptists and the citizens generally will respond generously to the opportunity offered them to take a vital part in this great movement. Prayers have been organized in every church in the county and the pastors, leading laymen, and women of each community are prepared to devote the coming week to the Master's service." Every detail of organization has been arranged and for this reason we hope to be among the first counties in the country to complete our daily reports and forward them into headquarters. Reports from every county director in the Northern Baptist Convention will be placed on the story of each day's progress of the campaign will be written and flashed to the world.

IRONTON'S POPULATION IS 14,007

14,007. That is how many people there are in Ironton, according to Uncle Sam's census takers, who have announced that city's population for 1920. This is an increase of 864, or 6.3 percent. In other words during the past 120 months Ironton grew at the rate of 7 persons per month or almost two each week.

No doubt hundreds of Ironton citizens will be sorely disappointed, as they confidently expected that city to show a census of from 18,000 to 20,000. Ironton has grown steadily the past two or three years and this growth no doubt made up for ground lost during the other seven or eight years. Hardly any citizen in Ironton multiplied a census of less than 10,000 and been disappointed will be felt there over the poor showing the city made in a numerical way.

WILL DISCUSS AUTO CLUB

Next Wednesday noon the subject to be discussed at the Chamber of Commerce weekly forum luncheon will be "Portsmouth's Automobile Club." James W. Hannon will be chairman of this forum meeting at which time an official of the Huntington Automobile Club will speak. This speaker will tell of the benefits of an organization composed of automobile owners. Portsmouth is said to be the largest city in the state without an automobile club. This luncheon is expected to be one of the best attended of the year.

SCHOOLS RUN ON OLD TIME

Dr. L. C. Jackson, president of the board of education, announced this morning that the public schools of the city would operate under the same time that they are running under now. At a meeting of the board held late yesterday afternoon, no action was taken on the more daylight saving plan, but after it had been concluded, Dr. Jackson said today that he had called up various members of the board and they decided to operate the schools under the old time, so there will be no change in the present school hours.

Dr. Jackson in explaining the reason for this action on the part of the board, said that if the schools operated upon the new time it would be necessary for pupils in the High School to get up at 5:30 in order to make the assembly on time and the board felt that this could be prevented by the schools operating under the old time.

For Three Years Parkersburg Man Couldn't Work, One Bottle Reese Formula R-11 Gave Relief

N. V. Cline Of South Parkersburg Enthusiastic Over Relief Obtained Thru Use Of Wonderful Remedy

N. V. Cline of South Parkersburg has been unable to attend to his business because of stomach, liver and kidney trouble. He was bothered with dizziness, light-headedness, rheumatism, backache, bladder and kidney disorders, his nerves were all unstrung and he couldn't sleep at night. Mr. Cline purchased a bottle of the Reese Formula R-11 from Boreman's Drug Store and after taking the first bottle he felt like new again.

In an interview Mr. Cline stated as follows: "I have suffered so from stomach trouble and rheumatism that I have been unable to work for the past three years. I would get dizzy and light-headed with gas on my stomach so that I could not sleep. My liver and bladder were so affected that I would have to get up many times during the night. At last I tried a bottle of the Reese Formula R-11 and I am thankful to say that it has relieved me of these disorders and I feel it my duty to tell the public of the benefit I have received."

We don't claim The Reese Formula will relieve everything under the sun—but if you suffer from stomach, liver or kidney trouble get a bottle from your druggist or the Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy, Portsmouth, W. C. Tripp & Co., Sciotoville, McCurdy's, Wheelersburg, and let us convince you that it will do just as we say.

"Passion Play" In History.

The "Passion Play" is a survival of the mystery and miracle plays of the later middle ages celebrated by the church at Christmas, Good Friday and Easter. These ancient entertainments were first given in Latin and afterward in the vernacular tongue, and with this innovation rather more than a trace of the comedy was introduced, for which reason the performance was removed to the open air. In 1427 a playhouse stage was erected at York.

The matter of congruous costumes troubled the actors not at all and the burgomaster's robe was borrowed from Joshua, one of the angels, or any character that stood in need of it. But the "Passion Play" as given by the Burgomasters is performed reverently and is so solemn and consistent as its actors can make it.

Galvani Last Time Tonight

Once more tonight, and once more only, will local photographers have an opportunity of witnessing the amazing performances of that master of wonder, Galvani, the world-wide wonder. His past performances have made him locally famous, as well as popular and little can be said just before his last performance except to urge those who have not already been there to go tonight by all means—those who have been there before will be there tonight in physical ability. He promises new stunts in an endless variety, and with this amusement of a side-splitting nature, mystery, scientific demonstrations and weird mind-power manifestations combined in one entertainment, he certainly offers more than ample reason for the small admission price. Tonight will positively be the last performance here. Last night, hundreds were turned away, many patrons offering double the admission price, for the privilege of standing room. Mr. Galvani has proven that he is one of the best entertainers that ever played this city. His request would be welcomed by all lovers of wholesome amusement.

OWENSBORO, KY., April 24.—Addressing an immense audience upon the occasion of his first visit to this section of Kentucky, Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, told today's county voters that the leaders of the Republican party would not be permitted to dodge during the 1920 campaign the question, "Have you kept the faith?"

This will be the issue they must face, he said, referring to the question of whether or not they had redeemed promises made in 1918 to do all within their power to bring about a peace treaty and an international agreement that would end war. President Wilson brought the war to an end in 18 months, but more than 18 months have passed since the armistice was signed, and through the conspiracy of Republican leaders in Congress, America is still without peace, Governor Cox said.

HARRY CARRY

OVERLAND RED

THE JOYOUS VAGABOND OF THE ROAD

HERE'S one of the most enjoyable photoplays you've ever laughed and thrilled through—the rollicking romance of a happy-go-lucky knight of the road who passes suddenly from poverty to riches—only to discover that his fortune is a hoax. The story is a story of the blues that you ever took. Now playing—see it without fail.

Popular Harry Carry is back again—This Time in the First of His New Special Attractions—See Him at the Exhibit Tonight the Last Time in "Overland Red."

"Overland Red" is the story of a chivalrous hero. Carry as "Overland Red" does rough things of all sorts—on horseback, on a racing motor down a steep mountain road, and on the break-downs of a fast-flying limousine.

The filming of a rising sun on the desert by Overland Red; the discovery of gold and a map on his person, the arrest of Red and his young pal by a crooked sheriff and their escape through the aid of a girl, forms a lively chain of events. Humor and romance are not overlooked in the story, and the Carry smile is much in evidence throughout.

Also a comedy and scenic travels.

Why Wedding Ring Is Plain.
 From the early times gold was used for the wedding ring, and tradition has it that the ring should be absolutely plain. It has been long recognized that the diamond ring can never replace the plain band ring. A reason for the preference given to the ring without the setting is offered by Philip in his "Holy State," where he says: "Marriage with a diamond ring foretells evil, because the interruption of the circle suggests that the reciprocal regard of the spouse might not be perpetual."

In Case of Fainting.
 One day in school the teacher asked us what we would do in case of fainting. A pupil quickly answered: "Throw water on yourself!"

SPECTACULAR BLAZE NEAR BROOKLYN DOCKS SEEN FROM PLANE

Aerial view of Brooklyn waterfront here. One of the most spectacular blazes seen in years recently swept the steamer Harbinger at the dock, Brooklyn, N. Y. Twenty-four firemen, cut off on the pier by the flames from the hold of the vessel, caused by the explosion of chemicals with which she was loaded, barely got ashore without injury. The ship was towed into the stream and the tugboat the blaze there.

Original Harmony.
 A traveler on a walking tour in one of the northern counties came across a solitary old man, seated in the doorway of his cottage, was adding away quite regardless of such trifling conventionalities as time and tune. The traveler listened a while in amazement and then inquired casually: "When do you tune your violin?" The reply came with refreshing ingenuousness: "I don't tune it—it don't sound right if I do."

Not a Joshua.
 Two little boys had quarreled and after their mother's intercession, endeavored to re-establish friendly relations between them, finally quoting to them the Bible verse, "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Turning to Bernard, the elder, she said: "Now, Bernard, are you going to let the sun go down on your wrath?" Bernard acquiesced a little as he looked into her face. "Well, how can I stop it?" he asked.

Venerable Bede.
 The Venerable Bede or Bedas was a famous churchman of deep piety and great classical learning. He was born about the year 672, at Jarrow in Durham, England, near the mouth of the Tyne. He died in June, 735, just as he had completed a translation into Saxon of St. John's Gospel. His chief original work is his "History of the Anglo-Saxon Church," written in Latin.

The Reckoning.
 It's well we should feel that life's a reckoning we can't make twice over; there's no real making amends in this world, any more nor can you need a wrong subtraction by being your neighbor right.—George Elliot.

Old Fellow's Rapid Growth.
 In December, 1906, Solomon Chambers and his son, who were English mechanics from the south of London, organized the first lodge of Old Fellows in New York city. It was called the Statesboro Lodge, No. 1, and at the initial meeting had only five members. Three years later six lodges had been established in New York city.

Reverend.
 The dining car was crowded and the conductor seated me opposite a man with whom I had quarreled. Across from me sat people who knew both of us and who knew of the quarrel, but the supreme moment of embarrassment for me came when the waiter, thinking the man was my husband, took up both of our checks and presented them to him for payment.—Exchange.

Origin of "Pitched Battle."
 "A pitched battle" originated in the days of knight-errantry and was so called then because boiling pitch was used by the defenders of a feudal castle to repel the attacking force. The battle, which usually took place outside the castle walls, would soon end when the boiling pitch began to flow from a tank on top of the walls. This originated the term "a pitched battle."

INVINCIBLES COPPED ONE GAME

The Solbrs lost their chance of grabbing first place, when they let the Invincibles slip a game over on them. The Solbrs won the first two by the score of 21 to 10 and 21 to 8. Then they got a little careless, having already put the third game in their percentage column and annexed first place. (In their imagination), and while they were dreaming about it, the Invincibles just slipped the last game over on them, by the score of 21 to 15.

The Solbrs will have a chance to get back first place this afternoon, when they will play the Wholesalers at 2:00 p. m. At 3:00 the Allies will play the Solbrs, and at 4:00 the Excelsors will have a chance at the Invincibles.

DOWNNEY IS MATCHED

CINCINNATI, April 24.—Bryan Downey, who fought Eddie Gerhart, matchmaker of the Elmwood Arena, last night he would be on hand for a fifteen round go with Frankie Brennan on Wednesday night, May 5. The contest will be for a decision. Don Ryan will referee.

Sweden Beats Belgian Team

ANTWERP, April 24.—Sweden defeated Belgium in the first game of the Olympic hockey tournament last night, the score being 5 to 0. "The winner will meet the French team on Sunday afternoon, France having drawn a bye in the first round.

The American team will meet Switzerland at the ice palace this afternoon and Canada will face Czechoslovakia tonight.

Rearrangement of the line up of the American team has been necessary because the rink is too narrow to accommodate four forwards, and the position of rover will be middle defense. The team will line up as follows: Pittsburgh, goal; Tuck, Boston, and Fitzgerald, Pittsburgh, defense; Gohren, Pittsburgh, rover; Drury, Pittsburgh, center. Conroy, St. Paul, left wing, and J. McCormick, Pittsburgh, right wing.

Is Getting Bad Start

Walter Ruetter is getting away to a snaky start. After winning his opening game last week he lost to the Briton on an error and Thursday was beaten by the wind. On a calm day the Cubs would have scored just our run off him. Five of the 11 Cub bingles were on the scrappy order.

Amphibious Crayfish.
 The crayfish usually lives an aquatic life. Some of those found in Australia, however, have forsaken the water and excavate burrows. The tunnel leading to the heart of the burrow is free from water, but it is always present in the chambers at the end where the crayfish lives.

Standing Just So Much.
 We have all seen parents or teachers who would stand for almost everything. I they would turn the other cheek to the child till it was worn to a thread, and then turn the first cheek back again. But, suddenly, something slips the sawdust from his offering and the onlookers, to a man, rejoice. It seems too good to be true, that things have to come to a head. It takes so long. But it is all right. We would not make more mistakes than we do if we didn't get things all thought out and suffered out before turning.—Minneapolis Journal.

Beaver's Habits Fixed.
 A careful study of beaver indicates that their acts, habits and customs are all instinctive, having in no way improved or advanced their original conditions since the discovery of the species. They build their dams and lodges, provide their food supply and pursue the same course as they did thousands of years ago.

The Highest Greatness.
 There are different orders of greatness. Among these the first rank is unquestionably due to moral greatness, or magnanimity, to that sublime energy, by which the soul, swollen with the love of virtue, binds itself indissolubly for life and death, to truth and duty; engrosses as its own interests of human nature; scores all meanness and defies all peril; hears in its own conscience a voice louder than thunders and the powers of the universe, which would sever it from the cause of freedom and religion; reposes an unflinching trust in God in the darkest hour, and is ever "ready to be offered up on the altar of his country, or of mankind.—William Ellery Channing.

Fracture's Big Spring.
 What is the largest spring in the world? Florida has one which must be near the head of the list. This is called Watula spring. It is 600 feet across, is 80 feet deep and flows at the rate of 120,000 gallons of water every minute. It gives rise to a river 250 feet wide at its source. The Watula spring is situated about 100 miles from Tampa.

MEEHAN RELEASED

Philip Meehan has drawn a pink slip from the Portsmouth, N. H., team and is back with home folks in Philadelphia. He writes friends that he has signed up with the Saginaw, Mich., team and will report there in a few days. "Red" McKee, a former Ohio State league catcher is boss of the Midgets.

Fulton May Meet Dempsey

Fred Fulton is the logical man to meet Jack Dempsey at Bay Harbor, since that time the full plasterer has been going at top speed. Fulton went overseas and killed the best they had "over there" without working up a sweat.

Big Fight Is Blocked

Prospects for the big mill between Rob Martin and Sergeant Roy Smith at Akron, O., April 27 looked blue yesterday when the Ohio boxing commission ruled adversely, owing to the high gate toll. Advance sales amounted to $1,400 at $5 and $3 but the Akron ruling was for $4 and $2. It is said the bout will be staged at Kansas City, May 10. Martin is being considered for the Dempsey match July 6.

WOULD THERE WERE MORE

JUDGE GARY, president of the United States Steel Corporation, told the last meeting of the directors to be of good cheer, not only as to the future of the corporation, but the country and the world as well.

We know not if the gentleman be a confirmed optimist, we are convinced that he generally knows what he is talking about. In times past he has been able to see far enough ahead to conduct the affairs of the gigantic concern to a complete success. So when he says all is well we like to believe him, and we have reason to.

Would there were more of his kind, and they spoke in louder voice. The nation's trouble is that there has been too much wrangling, and too much disputation, in plain words too much kicking. As a whole it was never better off, never enjoying so much and unexceptional prosperity. The trouble isn't that there isn't enough, but no consent as to what is enough.

More people are out of need and in the way of actual comfort than they ever were, many realize of luxuries, whose attainment was never in their dreams. But luxury is breeding waste and extravagance, the price thereof is always rising and dragging necessities along with it.

But, and here comes the saving grace, and which Judge Gary sees and places at its proper value. It is not all complaint and profligacy, there is content and prudence. Thousands see the wisdom of making hay while the sun shines and they are storing up in marvelous volume against the future, what ever may betide there-in. They are the hope and salvation of the nation, they are making safe the days to come, both for themselves and the nation.

THE SALE TAX CHARGE

THE Republican chairman of the congressional committee, having in hand the matters of revenue and taxes, announces, that the majority has determined to bring in a measure providing for a tax on sales.

Two things are left in doubt, whether the tax on each sale is to be one cent, or one per cent, and whether the tax is to be on retail purchases or all sales. There is a magnificent and manifest difference between the possibilities of cent and per cent, of retail sales and all sales.

A one cent tax would not bring in a fabulous sum, but it seems as though one per cent would. Either will be provocative of universal discontent and infinite annoyance. The butcher, the baker, the grocer, the farmer, in fact every dealer, big, medium and little would have to keep account and render report and remittance to the government and another army of employees would be organized at Washington and radiate therefrom.

If the tax be levied on all sales it would prove an enormous burden, like a snowball gathering in heap as it rolled along. Suppose we take the most common article of consumption, bread, for illustration. The elevator would pay the farmer the tax. Then when he in turn sold on Chicago market another tax with profit on the first would be added. Chicago would sell to the mills, using the same process. The mills would sell to the wholesaler, he to the retailer and not until the consumer paid all the prior taxes and interest and profits, not forgetting his last tax, the pyramiding would go on.

If the tax is put solely on retail sale the poor consumer pays it all, which is generally the case.

The sales tax, on the whole, has little to commend it and much to condemn it.

Speaking of mushrooms, have you ever heard of Keumore? We confess we have only a vague impression of hearing its name, but the first census returns of the week wrote it down as a mushroom town, situated somewhere in Ohio, about Akron, we believe. For the decade its population ran up from 1,000 to 32,000, not bothering with odd figures, which is certainly American, going some.

Is this promotion business thriving by simply shooting up into the air and taking all the victims of it, has, or has it got rotated around that we are a blooming multimillionaire? Like to think it a toss up and we could borrow more if it happened to be the latter, but the fact is that in a week we receive enough thrilling invitations to invest in this or that scheme, which if we were able to take only one share each, would make John D. seem like a piker by comparison.

It is to be doubted if the public appreciates the full significance of the switchmen's strike. Things it can understand readily enough, because of some general interest, is that the Ford and Overland factories were forced to almost entire suspension of it, making something like 50,000 workers idle.

And it was a genuine April day with the warmth of May. Thanks for this one and may several more be vouchsafed.

There wasn't a team on Market Square, Thursday. Cause, tow-path overflowed. Had the bridge been carried clear across the bottom this condition would not so frequently occur and likewise the eventual result would have been more economical.

In the early days of civilization it sometimes took Europe a hundred years to build a bridge, but it is still standing. A lesson might be learned from that.

It is a small rise that doesn't bring profit to somebody. A thriving trade in gum boots has prevailed in Bonafide for several days.

The Allies avow themselves perfectly willing to eject the Turk from Europe, if the United States will only take mandate over Turkey. Fine specimen of camouflaging. They know the full value of it in this contingency.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

A HEART-TO-HEART TALK WITH AUNT CECILIA

Had another talk with Aunt Cecilia this morning. Just had to get some things off my chest or bust. She is so sympathetic, and I felt so blue somehow or other, that it did my old heart good to have her stroke my hair and hug me to her.

"My little Lindsey has been going it too hard," said she when the tears happened. "Up all night before last dancing her head off, and gadding all day yesterday, in a scandalous way. Can't burn the candles at both ends, baby girl, so don't try. Get a good sleep tonight, and don't let Jack tell you you feel in a more cheerful frame of mind."

I took her advice, of course, and when he called up, before dinner, it was Aunt Cecilia who answered the phone, and told him that I was lying down and feeling tired, etc. That done, she came back into my room and curled up on my bed, all comfy-like, and we just talked hand for hours.

First of all she showed me her engagement ring, brand new, and a beauty. Pearls and diamonds. Aunt Cecilia is not superstitious about pearls; she says that all housewives about their meaning tears—and even if they do, she wept all the tears that any one woman could weep in ages, and does not expect to weep any more. Aside from that she thinks her ring the loveliest ever.

When we had gotten well settled, and most intimate, I confided in Aunt Cecilia about having a studio. First

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Day's jealousy increased as she thought about Night and the new kid, "Spot."

"Spot?" What an ugly name!" she said to herself. "If I were spotted, and my spots were as homely as hers, I would insist upon being called something else so as not to attract any one's attention to them. Yellow and black—the yellow looks like liver spots and the black like dirt." And right here little Day began to cry, for it made her sick to feel so ill-treated—she was always so good-humored—but jealousy is a bad thing in least or more and will make the best disposition sour if it tangles it.

"I am going back, so I am; and if I get lost I don't care, for then he will feel sorry I guess." So watching her opportunity when none of the goats were looking she turned and ran as hard as she could until she turned a corner in the path and knew they could not see her. On the wall, not heading where she was going, until all of a sudden she realized she was lost. As soon as she noticed this she commenced to bawl and bawl, and run wildly up this street and down that, trying to find something that looked familiar, but she could find nothing that she had ever seen before; and she was still bawling when a gate in a high wall opened beside her and a little boy came out. On seeing her said:

"Well, what are you crying and making such a fuss about? Are you lost? I guess you must be, as I see no other goats around. Come in here, and I will take care of you until you are called for," he said.

But Day was afraid to go in behind the high wall, so she tried to run away from the boy and would have succeeded, but when she turned a corner expecting to find another street, she ran instead into a fenced-off corner, and the boy, who was close on her heels, caught her before she could get out.

Then she was led back into the yard. When the gates closed, she felt like a prisoner, especially as the placenta (the Spanish name for an enclosed yard) looked large with its potted plants, hard dirt floor, without a blade of grass on it. In one corner was a chicken coop with a pile of boards leaning it reaching nearly to the top of the walls. (Please remember these boards. You will see how Day made use of them after a while.) In another corner was a large dog chained to his house. When Day saw this, she began to tremble with fear especially as the dog barked and tugged at his chain when he saw her.

"For mercy sake!" I do hope that chain won't break, for if it does he will bite me. I do wish the boy would stay in the yard!"

"Down, Major, Down!" called the boy to the dog. "Can't you be still and show better manners than to bark at a goat?"

But Major did not like goats and he growled to himself that when the boy went in he would try to break his chain and get at the kid, but try as he would his chain would not break and he was forced to lie down and keep quiet, but he kept an eye on Day all the time.

Day went to sleep little dreaming that help would come in a hurry. (You'll hear who it was tomorrow.) Copyrighted by the Saxfield Publishing Co., Akron, O.

New-York - Day - By - Day

By G. O. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, April 24—Near the Palace Theatre is Wolpin's, the mid night rendezvous of those rare free-for-all of the vaudeville stage. It is a small and shabby place, but the girls wait on the table and know a lot of the exponents by name. Variety folk eat breakfast around 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the big meal is at midnight.

The most delightfully irresponsible people in the world are the actors and actresses of variety. They snap their fingers at tomorrow and live only for the day. To fair weather and they stick together as closely as they can know you. But they never fail to help a fellow in distress.

A tale is told of a daring team of liberty. All their wealth consisted in two good suits of clothes. A telegram came from an old pal in New Orleans he was stranded and ill. That night a slavey girl at the theatrical boarding house where the dancing team lived took a bundle to a pawn shop on Eighth Avenue. She got $25 for them. The money was telegraphed to New Orleans and for ten days the dancing team couldn't leave their room. They had nothing to wear.

Wolpin's at night is one of the most interesting spots in the Tenderloin. Frisco comes in with two ever present "chaps." Then perhaps a group of midwinters. A female trio always tired looking. A female con-shouter, etc. etc. Their faces still bear the marks of a hasty removal of the makeup.

Then and Now
I cannot wear the old suit:
I wore long years ago:
It's shiny at the shoulders.
My knees and elbows show,
But on investigation
I discover this is true:
I can not wear the old suit.
Nor can I buy a new.

Then and Now

WHO'S WHO
In The Days News

MRS. MAUD NATHAN

One of the most distinguished of American women, Mrs. Maud Nathan, has just been named as a delegate to the International Suffrage Congress, which will convene in Geneva, Switzerland, early in June. Few women have been honored as has Mrs. Nathan, and it goes without saying that she will be a worthy representative of a great nation at the congress soon to be held.

Mrs. Nathan was born in New York City. She was educated there and in Green Bay, Wis., where she spent some of her early years. Her marriage to Frederick Nathan occurred in 1880.

During the past twenty years Mrs. Nathan has addressed scores of great public gatherings. She has occupied pulpits in New York, Chicago and Boston and has been active in three national campaigns in New York.

She has also been a contributor to newspapers and magazines. She was a speaker before the International Congress of Women in London, 1904, and in Berlin, 1904, before the International Peace Congress in New York, 1907, and the International Congress of Labor Legislation at Lucerne in 1908; and the International Woman Suffrage convention at Stockholm, 1911, and at Budapest, 1912. She represented the D. A. C. at the opening of the Peace Palace at the Hague in 1913.

Mrs. Nathan was president of the Consumers League of New York from 1897 until 1917, since which time she has been honorary president. She is a vice president of the National Consumers League and first vice president of the Equal Suffrage Society. She is a Jewess.

Not a Joke. Two little boys had quarreled and after their supper their mother endeavored to re-establish friendly relations between them, finally saying to them the Bible verse, "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Turning to Bernard, the elder, she said, "Now, Bernard, are you going to let the sun go down on your wrath?" Bernard squirmed a little and he looked into her face. "Well, how can I stop it?" he asked.

"Venerable Bede." The Venerable Bede of Jarrow was a Saxon churchman of deep piety and great classical learning. He was born about the year 672, at Jarrow in Northumbria, near the mouth of the Tyne. He died in June, 735, just as he had completed a translation into Latin of St. John's Gospel. His chief original work is his "History of the Anglo-Saxon Church," written in Latin.

INVINCIBLES COPPED ONE GAME

The Selkies lost their chance of grabbing first place, when they let the Invincibles slip a game over on them. The Selkies won the first two by the score of 21 to 10 and 21 to 8. Then they got a little careless, having already put the third game in their percentage column and annexed first place (in their imagination), and while they were dreaming about it, the Invincibles just slipped the last game over on them, by the score of 21 to 18.

The Selkies will have a chance to get back first place this afternoon, when they will play the Whitecaps at 2:00 p. m. At 3:00 the Allies will play the Selkies, and at 4:00 the Excelsiors will have a chance at the Invincibles.

DOWNNEY IS MATCHED

CINCINNATI, April 24.—Bryan Downey wired Eddie Gerhart, matchmaker of the Elmwood Arena, last night he would be on hand for a fifteen round go with Frankie Brennan on Wednesday night, May 5. The contest will be for a decision. Lou Bauman will referee.

Sweden Beats Belgian Team

ANTWERP, April 24.—Sweden defeated Belgium in the first game of the Olympian hockey tournament last night, the score being 5 to 0. The winner will meet the French team of Sunday afternoon, France having drawn a bye in the first round.

The American team will meet Switzerland at the ice palace this afternoon and Canada will face Czechoslovakia tonight.

Rearrangement of the line up of the American team has been necessary because the rink is too narrow to accommodate four forwards, and the position of rover will be middle defense. The team will line up as follows: Pittsburgh, goal; Tuck, Boston, and Fitzgerald, Pittsburgh, defense; Goleen, Pittsburgh, rover; Drury, Pittsburgh, center; Connor, St. Paul, left wing, and J. McCormick, Pittsburgh, right wing.

Is Getting Bad Start

Walter Rutherford is getting away to a snail's start. After winning his opening game last week he lost to the Pilgrims on an error and Thursday was beaten by the wind. On a calm day the Cubs would have scored just one run off him. Five of the 11 Cub batters were on the scratching order.

Amphibious Crayfish. The crayfish usually lives in an aquatic life. Some of those found in Australia, however, have forsaken the water and excavate burrows. The tunnel leading to the head of the burrows is free from water, but it is always present in the chambers at the end where the crayfish lives.

SPORTS SUITS FOR SUMMER COMBINE DIFFERENT SILKS

We have all seen parents or teachers who would stand for almost everything. They would turn the other cheek to the child till it was worn to a thread, and then turn the first cheek back again. But, suddenly, something slips. The parent turns round and whips the sandblast from his offspring and the schoolmaster, to a man, replies, "It seems too bad, sometimes, that things have to come to a head. It takes so long. But it is a way they have. Perhaps it is all right. We mortals might make more mistakes than we do if we didn't get things all thought out and suffered out before turning."—Minneapolis Journal.

Beaver's Habits Fixed. A careful study of beaver indicates that their habits and customs are all instinctive, having in no way improved or advanced their original customs since the discovery of the species. They build their dams and lodges, provide their food supply and pursue the same course as they did thousands of years ago.

The Highest Greatness. There are different orders of greatness. Among these the first rank is unquestionably divine moral greatness, or magnanimity: to that sublime energy, by which the soul, smitten with the love of virtue, binds itself indissolubly for life and death to truth and duty; responses as its own interests as human nature; seems all manhood and defies all perils; bears in its own person a voice louder than all threats and thus, with its own power, would sever it from the cause of freedom and religion; it is an unflinching trust in God in the darkest hour, and is ever ready to be offered up on the altar of its country or of mankind.—William Ellery Channing.

Florida's Big Spring. What is the largest spring in the world? Florida has one which can be near the head of the list. It is called Wakulla spring. It is 80 feet across, to 80 feet deep and flows at the rate of 120,000 gallons a minute. It flows into a lake 250 feet wide at its source. The mammoth spring is situated near the town of Tallahassee.

WOULD THERE WERE MORE

JUDGE GARY, president of the United States Steel Corporation, told the last meeting of the directors to be of good cheer, not only as to the future of the corporation, but the country and the world as well.

We know not if the gentleman be a confirmed optimist, we are convinced that he generally knows what he is talking about. In times past he has been able to see far enough ahead to conduct the affairs of the gigantic concern to a complete success. So when he says all is well we like to believe him, and we have reason to.

Would there were more of his kind, and they spoke in louder voice. The nation's trouble is that there has been too much wrangling, and too much dispute, in plain words too much kicking. As a whole it was never better off, never enjoying so much and unexceptional prosperity. The trouble isn't that there isn't enough, but no consent as to what is enough.

More people are out of need and in the way of actual comfort than they ever were, many realize of luxuries, whose attainment was never in their dreams. But luxury is breeding waste and extravagance, the price thereof is always rising and dragging necessities along with it.

But, and here comes the saving grace, and which Judge Gary sees and places at its proper value. It is not all complaint and profligacy, there is content and prudence. Thousands see the wisdom of making hay while the sun shines and they are storing up in marvelous volume against the future, what ever may befall there. They are the hope and salvation of the nation, they are making safe the days to come, both for themselves and the nation.

THE SALE TAX CHARGE

THE Republican chairman of the congressional committee, having in hand the matters of revenue and taxes, announces that the majority has determined to bring in a measure providing for a tax on sales.

Two things are left in doubt, whether the tax on each sale is to be one cent, or one per cent, and whether the tax is to be on retail purchases or all sales. There is a magnificent and magnificent difference between the possibilities of cent and per cent, of retail sales and all sales.

A one cent tax would not bring in a fabulous sum, but it seems as though one per cent would. Either will be provocative of universal discontent and infinite annoyance. The butcher, the baker, the grocer, the farmer, in fact every dealer, big, medium and little would have to keep account and render report and remittance to the government and another army of employees would be organized at Washington and radiate therefrom.

If the tax be levied on all sales it would prove an enormous burden, like a snowball gathering in heap as it rolled along. Suppose we take the most common article of consumption, bread, for illustration. The elevator would pay the farmer the tax. Then when he in turn sold on Chicago market another tax with profit on the first would be added. Chicago would sell to the wholesaler, he to the retailer and not until the consumer paid all the prior taxes and interest and profits, not forgetting his last tax, the pyramiding would go on.

If the tax is put solely on retail sale the poor consumer pays it all, which is generally the case.

The sales tax, on the whole, has little to commend it and much to condemn it.

Speaking of mushrooms, have you ever heard of Kenmore? We confess we have only a vague impression of hearing its name, but the first census returns of the week wrote it down as a mushroom town, situated somewhere in Ohio, about Akron, we believe. For the decade its population ran up from 1,000 to 12,000, not bothering with odd figures, which is certainly American, going some.

Is this promotion business thriving by simply shooting up into the air and taking all the victim of it, has or has it got pored around that we are a blooming multimillionaire? Like to think it a loss up and we could borrow more if it happened to be the latter, but the fact is that in a week we receive enough thrilling invitations to invest in this or that scheme, which if we were able to take only one share each, would make John D. seem like a piker by comparison.

It is to be doubted if the public appreciates the full significance of the switchmen's strike. Things it can understand readily enough, because of some general interest, is that the Ford and Overland factories were forced to almost entire suspension of it, making something like 30,000 workers idle.

And it was a genuine April day with the warmth of May. Thanks for this one and may several more be vouchsafed.

There wasn't a train on Market Square, Thursday. Cause, tow-path overflowed. Had the bridge been carried clear across the bottom this condition would not so frequently occur and likewise the eventual result would have been more economical.

In the early days of civilization it sometimes took Europe a hundred years to build a bridge, but it is still standing. A lesson might be learned from that.

It is a small rise that doesn't bring profit to somebody. A thriving trade in gum boots has prevailed in Benafidde for several days.

The Allies avow themselves perfectly willing to eject the Turk from Europe, if the United States will only take mammoth over Turkey. Fine specimen of camouflage. They know the full value of it in this contingency.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

A HEART-TO-HEART TALK WITH AUNT CECILIA

Had another talk with Aunt Cecilia this morning. Just had to get some things off my chest or bust. She is so sympathetic, and I felt so blue somehow or other, that I did my heart good to have her stroke my hair and hug me to her.

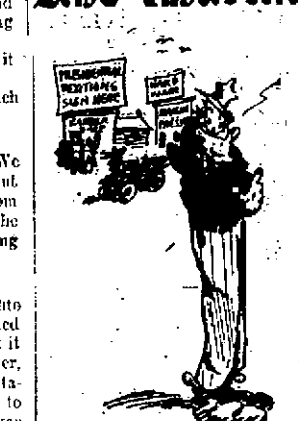

"My little Lindsey has been going it too hard," said she when the tears happened. "Up all night before last dancing her head off, and spending all day yesterday in a scandalous way. Can't burn the candles at both ends, baby girl, so don't try. Get a good sleep tonight, and don't see Jack till you feel in a more cheerful frame of mind."

I took her advice, of course, and when he called up, before dinner, it was Aunt Cecilia who answered the phone, and told him that I was lying down and feeling tired, etc. That doesn't come back into my room and curled up on my bed, all comfy like, and we just talked half for hours.

First of all she showed me her engagement ring, brand new, and a beauty. Pearls and diamonds. Aunt Cecilia is not superstitious about pearls; she says that all nonsense about their meaning tears—and even if they do, she went all the years that any one woman could keep in ages, and does not expect to weep any more. Aside from that, she thinks her ring the loveliest ever.

When we had gotten well settled and most intimate, I confided in Aunt Cecilia about having a studio. First

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCIS TREGO MONTGOMERY

Day's jolliness increased as she thought about Nigh and the new kid "spotty." What an ugly name! she said to herself. "If I were spotted, and my spots were as badly as hers, I would just upon being called something else so as not to attract any one's attention to them. Yellow and black—the yellow took like liver spots and the black like dirt." And right here little Day began to cry, for it made her sick to feel so. Unlucky—she was always so good-natured—but jealousy is a bad thing in least or man and will make the best disposition sour if it touches it.

"I am going back, so I am and if I get lost I don't care, for then he will feel sorry I guess." So watching her opportunity when none of the goats were looking she turned and ran as hard as she could until she turned a corner in the path and knew they could not see her. On she went, not heeding where she was going, until all of a sudden she realized she was lost. As soon as she noticed this she commenced to holler and holler, and ran wildly up this street and down that, trying to find some thing that looked familiar, but she could find nothing that she had ever seen before; and she was still hollering when a gate in a high wall opened beside her and a little boy came out. On seeing her said:

"Well, what are you crying and making such a fuss about? Are you lost? I guess you must be, as I see no other goats around. Come in here, and I will take care of you until you are called for," he said.

But this was afraid to go in behind the high wall, so she tried to run away

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY D. O. MINTRE

NEW YORK, April 24.—Near the Palace Theatre is Volpina's, the mid-right rendezvous of those carefree folks of the vaudeville stage. It is a small and cheery girl restaurant, little wait on the table and know all of the customers by name. Vaudeville folk eat breakfast around 9 o'clock in the afternoon and the big meal is at midnight.

The most delightfully irresponsible people in the world are the actors and actresses of variety. They snap their fingers at tomorrow and live only for the day. In fair weather and foul they stick together—clash and still they know you. But they never fail to help a fellow in distress.

A tale is told of a dancing team that "liberty." All their wealth consisted in two good suits of clothes. A telegram came from an old pal in New Orleans he was stranded and ill. That night a shaver girl at the theatrical boarding house where the dancing team lived took a bundle to a pawn shop on Eighth Avenue. She got $22 for them. The money was telegraphed to New Orleans and for ten days the dancing team couldn't leave their room. They had nothing to wear.

Volpina's at night is one of the most interesting spots in the Broadway. I have come in with the ever-present "flash." Then perhaps a group of judges. A bicycle trip always filled looking. A female room shouter, etc., etc. Their faces still bear the marks of a busy retail of the makeup.

Variety, the vaudeville paper, is

"So, Whiggly the aviator, has become a vaudeville act?"

"Vaudeville act? I don't get you. He's brought down the house for five nights."—The House Sector.

"Fine Italian Hand"

"The origin of the phrase 'fine Italian hand' goes back to the days of the writing master and the quill pen, a century ago, when the Italian hand was taught for police usage as well as the clerical script for business purposes and a law text for attorneys and gentlemen of the bar. That is one explanation. Another is based on the career of Machiavelli, or more especially his instructions to princes on the art of governing. A third explanation is that the phrase should read 'fine Roman hand,' and attributed to Machiavelli's habit of writing in italics. In support of this is quoted the line from the fourth scene, third act, of 'Twelfth Night': 'I think we do know the sweet Roman hand.'"

Milk From Coconuts

Along the Orange river natives have an ingenious way of producing "milk." After cutting the top from a coconut they place it over ashes so that the warmth may cause the fat to add "butter" contained in the husk to be absorbed by the milk; this changes the milk's quantity and gives it a palatable taste.

IRONTON'S POPULATION IS 14,007

14,007. That is how many people there are in Ironton, according to Uncle Sam's census takers, who have announced that city's population for 1920. This is an increase of 56, or 0.5 percent. In other words during the past 100 months Ironton grew at the rate of 7 persons per month or almost two each week. No doubt hundreds of Ironton citizens will be sorely disappointed, as they confidently expected that city to show a census of from 18,000 to 20,000. Ironton has grown steadily the past two or three years and this growth is doubt made up for ground lost during the other seven or eight years. Hardly any citizen in Ironton anticipated a census of less than 16,000 and keen disappointment will be felt there over the poor showing the city made in a numerical way.

After reaching a crest late yesterday afternoon at a stage of 48.9 the Ohio river remained stationary for several hours and then started on the downward course last night and this morning at 7 o'clock registered 48.8. Local River Observer Fred Winter said this morning that while the river was falling very slowly up to 7 o'clock the decline would become more rapid tonight. The fall of the Ohio will be rather slow for several days, local rivermen averred Saturday as the Ohio also reached a very high stage at Pittsburgh and Wheeling and this water is due to pass here Sunday night or Monday. The river will have to fall three more feet for the Towpath leading from the West Side to be open for travel. It has been submerged several days. Many ferries are in operation and West Siders who are employed in the city or have important business missions to look after have not been kept away from Portsmouth because of the inundation of this road. By Sunday morning many machines will be able to drive across it and some will attempt, it tonight should the Ohio fall a foot during the day. Letters From Our Readers

Editor Times—O, April 22.
Pleasant, O., April 22.
I can't forget a word I heard today. It was that your people—a civilized people—let Glen Plumb lecture in your High School auditorium to a fair audience, on his confederate scheme of government, and applauded it. He was quoted to me as having said that the "Merchant in handling out his goods to you, (the consumer), handed out as little as he could; etc.; and that you (the consumer) should in return pinch out or dele out as little work as possible." etc.
Plumb couldn't have made that talk in many towns. They'd hang him for a "Red," for it. And I am amazed that you disgraced your public school room in letting him preach it in Portsmouth.
Yours,
T. H. THOMPSON.
(Note:—The editor of The Times heard the Plumb speech at the High School, and does not remember any statement about giving "as little work as possible.")

W. O. W. BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

Friday night will long be remembered by the members of River City Camp W. O. W. as one of the greatest nights in the history of Woodcraft in Southern Ohio. After a general business meeting the first degree was put on by the crack degree team of New Boston Camp. Thirty candidates were initiated. The work was enjoyed by all, and too much credit can not be given Captain Sunday at Piqua, O., and Geo. Kirkton and his men. After the degree work the hall was cleared, and the tables prepared for the banquet. Counsel Commander Arthur Brown acted as toast master and kept things moving at a lively rate. Spiced talks were made by Geo. Louis Steffle of Cleveland and Col. Alford of Dayton. Mayor L. J. Janney gave a report on the Regimental meeting held last Sunday at Piqua, O., and Geo. Kirkton.
